

THE COMING CARNIVAL.

When with the advent of beautiful May, the greater Cosmopolitan company inaugurates its season of 1905, it will be a revelation to the thriving city of Ardmore and her genial citizens. Nothing remains of the Cosmopolitan Carnival company of yore, so well known to millions of patrons throughout our land, but its famous stainless name, its unsullied reputation. Nothing remains but the rugged honesty, the tireless integrity and strict morality of its managers, Messrs. H. Snyder and J. R. Anderson. A veritable host of skilled workmen are now and have been all winter busily engaged in building the carved golden wagon fronts and other paraphernalia of this mighty giant of the amusement world. Nothing has been undone that brain, brawn or the lavish outlay of money could accomplish, bearing always in mind the motto: "Nothing too good or too expensive for a liberal people." From the very tent stakes to the mighty twenty-ton steam engine that drives the powerful electric dynamo, everything is new and bright. With these very dynamo the darkest night will be a the brightest day. All shows will be different from anything ever exhibited before, parading of a mechanical and scientific nature, not forgetting the amusing, amusing and educational parts. So that one night laugh with mirth and else while wandering through the maze of the Eastman-Castle. Another will gaze with awe and wonder at the grandeur and sublimity of the Alps, while the evening sun paints those beautiful colors no artist could ever paint upon eternal snow-capped Mount Matterhorn. The topics of the day are not forgotten. One can see the mighty deathly struggles of ill-fated Russia against the victorious foe—fair Japan. Another may dive to the bottom of the sea and marvel at the wonders of the briny deep. Free performances of a superior character are promised every hour. Two grand concert bands will fill the air with sweetest music all the day. Indeed the grand initial performances of the Greater Cosmopolitan Carnival company shall be a red-letter day in the history of generous Ardmore. In the words of the leather-lunged festive "epicure" who will also be with you, "Ladies, gentlemen and little children, everything will be far beyond your expectations."

Where Happiness is Found.

Don't look for true happiness in the possession of the very rich, where high-priced physicians are called in to doctor every ailment. But seek it and find it too, in the comfortable homes of the middle-classes and so-called poor, where Green's August Flower is always used to keep the family healthy—to cure all stomach troubles, whether indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, loss of appetite, bilious attacks or torpid liver. Trial bottle August Flower, 25c. Big bottle, 75c. W. B. Frame, T. N. Coleman.

A man who gambles in stocks and bonds and wins is regarded as a great financier; if he becomes a bankrupt he is called a fool.

A Tried and True Friend.

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing Coughs, Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who use it. Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., says: "Coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. After trying a number of remedies to no avail, One Minute Cough Cure entirely cured me." Sold by all druggists.

Strange as it may seem there are not enough statistics to prove that people who buy goods of mail order houses are richer than people who trade with the home merchants.

Cures Coughs and Colds.

Mrs. C. Peterson, 625 Lake St., Topeka, Kans., says: "Of all cough remedies Ballard's Horehound Syrup is my favorite; it has done and will do all that is claimed for it—to speedily cure all coughs and colds—and it is so sweet and pleasant to taste. Sold by W. B. Frame."

When a woman wants to thoroughly enjoy a trip on a railroad train she takes three bundles with her tied up in a paper, a satchel, some house plants, a parasol and a bird cage.

When a man readily accepts our ideas and beliefs we are apt to have a very high opinion of his understanding, but when we find one who differs from us we wonder at his stupidity.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup.

Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough; oppressed, rattling rasping and difficult breathing. Henry C. Stevens, Druggist, Shullsburg, Wis., writes, May 20, 1902: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by W. B. Frame.

A Good Night's Rest.

The greatest tonic on earth is a good night's rest. Restless nights and the terrible exhaustion of a heaving cough are dread dangers of the poor consumptive. But why this fear of the night when a few doses of Dr. Bosch's German Syrup will insure refreshing sleep, entirely free from cough or night sweat? Free expectation in the morning is made certain by taking German Syrup. It has cured consumption for forty years. Trial bottle, 25c. Big bottle, 75c. W. B. Frame, T. N. Coleman.
